Canadian Mental Health Association

Kelowna, Discovery College, Online - Coping with Current Events: A Parent, Family and Caregiver Toolkit

COVID-19 is on many of our minds at the moment. With so much changing with the current events, for some of us, it has understandably made it more difficult to support our loved ones. Our Coping with Current Events series hopes to bring together the community during a time of unknown, to learn and support ourselves and others. Our online Coping with Current Events: A Parent, Family and Caregiver Toolkit will discuss the impact of the current events on ourselves and those we care for, understand differences in perspectives, become aware of different communication tools and provide some options to help support ourselves and others. Our goal is for you to leave this online session with at least one tool or piece of knowledge that you can implement right now to “reduce that squeeze” we all feel. This session will be hosted online, so to join this access to the internet or phone is needed. Instructions on how you can join will be sent once registration is completed. This session has been created in collaboration with Foundry Kelowna, with contributions from people with lived and professional expertise.

Contact Melissa for information on the program set up at 250-300-9108 or mentalhealth@kfs.bc.ca.

Stronger Together Kelowna, Online

Friday, 10-11:00 am

With the entire world isolated, we at Stronger Together Kelowna thought that it was so important to remind those suffering from PPD/PPA that they are not alone. We, along with the incredible Dr. Susannah-Joy Schuilenberg of William and Associates and The Bridge Kelowna have been working on creating virtual coffee chats to help support those of you that need us the most. These chats will be via Zoom, from the comfort of your own home. They say it takes a village and this is an opportunity to connect, chat, and bring the village to YOU during this isolating and anxiety ridden time. Come as you are, via audio, or video, alias or in real life, however you're comfortable - Registration required.
